FIVE CENTS

NEW COUNCIL STARTS BUSINESS

Nominated Cherry Tree Heads-- Favor $5 Tax

APPROVE HATCHET STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Nominate Lenovitz For Hatchet Business Manager in Executive Session—Committees Appointed

The new council held an executive meeting Friday evening, June 15, at 5 o'clock in which they accepted the appointments of Hatchet editors made by the Hatchet Corporation, nominated Jacob Lenovitz for business manager of the Hatchet, nominated various people for the Cherry Tree Staff and accepted the $5 tax to govern student publications and medical aid as suggested by the faculty committee on student activities.

The nomination of Jacob Lenovitz will be sent to the Hatchet Corporation to be acted on at their meeting next week. The Cherry Tree nominations for the Cherry Tree Staff must be approved by the Faculty Committee. They were Editor-in-chief, Frederic Arber, Law School '18, last year a member of the staff of the daily paper of the University of Illinois; Associate Editor, Lawrence Burton, Columbian College '19, this year editor of the Cherry Tree; Business Manager, Ernest Elkin, Law School, this year business manager of "A Night Out." Alternates: James Hornaday, Associate Editor, James Hornaday, Associates, James Hornaday, William Wilbur, and Hadley Freeman; Business Manager, Charles Prettyman.

The $5 tax was accepted to cover the Hatchet and the Cherry Tree, and medical service with the suggestion that athletics should be provided for as much as possible.

It also voted to keep that part of the tax which was allotted to the Student Council in the treasury to be used in the fall for some kind of a Freshman-Sophomore rush.

Second Council Organizes
The Second Council met in the Law School June 7, and decided in favor of a $5 voluntary tax which will include the publications and hospital benefits.

Much criticism was made concerning the lack of solicitation of signers by students last fall and the members felt that the $5 tax would be ample to finance those three divisions providing 800 signers were obtained. It was further planned to have solicitors present at the registration of students and explain the advantages of the tax.

The matter of military instruction and tactics was brought up by Rhesa Norris. He advocated the installation of the course at G. W. with credit. Following much discussion in favor of the plan, Larry Burton moved that the course in military instruction and tactics be recommended to the Faculty Committee and be brought before the President.

Committees Appointed
Standing committees were appointed as follows: Athletic, James Patterson, chairman, Miss Gertrude Walter and Vail Minnick; Social, Elmer Kayser, chairman; Miss McGrew and Russell Duval; Publications, Alvin Riggs, chairman; E. Underwood and Faulkner.

There were numerous other matters which were left to be threshed out in executive meeting. Those matters are the publication of the activities booklet, and details for the soliciting of tax signers.

Last Meeting Old Council
The plans for the management of student publications and the appointment of Tully C. Garner as one of the senior marshals to take the place of Mr. Cannon, who could not attend the exercises was the important business transacted by the old Council in extra session May 29.

The Hatchet next year will have an editor-in-chief and two associates, whose work will be under the supervision of the editor-in-chief. The editor-in-chief has the power to appoint all other members of the staff and has general supervision of the publication. (Continued on page 4)

STUDENTS IN MILITARY SERVICE OF U. S.

Nearly a hundred students had left the University before the close of the school year to enter some branch of the military service of the United States, according to statistics compiled by Miss Eleanor Hance, recorder. In addition to this, eleven of the medical faculty are in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps and eight dental students are taking military examinations. Many other students who finished the school year are also contemplating entering the military service.

NEW FACULTY HEAD

Prof. Croissant Heads Activities Committee--Meeting Held

President Stockton has appointed Professor DeWitt C. Croissant as acting chairman of the faculty committee on student activities in place of Dean Fraser. At the same time Professor William C. Van Vleet was appointed faculty representative from the Law School.

Faculty Favors Tax
The Faculty Committee which met on June 7, voted in favor of the $5 tax as proposed by that student body.

The Student Council also was advised to strike out the clause in its constitution limiting the membership of the different departments. The Council accepted the ruling and the Council may now have any number of men and women from each department. Before the women were limited to one member.

The faculty committee recommended to the President's council that any surplus in any of the student activities funds be used to reduce that athletic deficit. Dean Fraser reported that after all available funds had been applied to the athletic bills for this year the deficit would approximately be $150 to $200.

Prof. Croissant's Activities
Professor Croissant was secretary of the committee and chairman of the sub-committee on student publications during the past year. Dean Fraser said that Professor Croissant had shown an energetic and enthusiastic interest in student affairs. Professor Croissant took his freshman and sophomore years at old Columbian College but went to Princeton for his junior and senior years. He did graduate work at the University of Chicago, Munich and Princeton. He took his Ph. D. at Princeton where he held the Charles Scribner Scholarship. He taught in G. W. U. from 1905 to 1910 and since then he has taught in the state universities of Colorado, Oklahoma, and Kansas. Last year he was general field agent for the Simplified Spelling Board and came to G. W. U. as a full professor of English last fall. Professor Croissant knows the conditions from both the student and faculty point of view and is expected to make a very successful chairman.

PROF. FERSEN LAW DEAN

Acts For Dean Fraser--Other Appointments

The Trustees of the University have appointed M. L. Fersen to act as dean of the Law School during Dean Fraser's year's leave of absence to teach in the University of Minnesota. Mr. Fersen has been a professor in the Law School for the past six years and is considered very popular among the students.

At the same time the trustees appointed Judson A. Crane, E. O. Schreiber, Jr., and J. Lewis Parks, Jr., formerly assistant professors in the Law School as full professors and Lloyd H. Sutton was appointed associate professor of patent law.

Professor Schreiber has been on leave of absence to do graduate work at Harvard this year. He was one of the Harvard commencement orators speaking on "Social Justice Through Legislation."

SEVEN ELECTED TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES

John Joy Edson New Member--Others Re-elected--Three Are Alumni Members--Larner Is Chairman

Seven trustees of the University were elected at the meeting of the Board held on May 31. With the exception of John Joy Edson, who was elected as an alumni trustee, all were re-elections.

Mr. Edson who was treasurer of the University from 1903 to 1905 and is chairman, board of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, and John B. Larner, who was re-elected chairman of the Board, were the alumni trustees elected to serve until 1920, and Harry C. Davis was elected as alumni trustee to serve until 1918.

Others members re-elected to serve until 1920 are: William James Flather, Henry Brown Floyd MacFarland, Walter Rupert Tuckerman, Henry White. All officers of the board were re-elected.

COLUMBIAN HAS CLEAN RECORD IN BASEBALL

Win, Final Game From Engineers By 13 to 12 Score--Kebler Put In For Bixler

The Columbian College baseball team in the interdepartmental series finished the season without a defeat by winning the final game against the Engineers by a score of 13 to 12 on May 19. The game was loosely played and devoid of any features, outside of the heavy slugging by both sides. Bixler was struck by one of Huse's fast curves in the third inning and Kebler pitched the balance of the game.

300 STUDENTS GET DIPLOMAS AT CENTRAL HIGH AUDITORIUM

GET CHERRY TREE THIS WEEK

All students who have not been able to obtain a Cherry Tree may secure a copy at Miss Watkins' office, 2023 G street during week of June 18. Anyone who is leaving town or is out of town at the present time should notify the editor at the above address and a copy of the book will be sent to him at once.

The staff regrets that the manner of distribution has been such as to inconvenience so many and will do all in its power to rectify matters.

MARTIN HEADS HATCHET

Ravenel and Miss Prentiss Made Associate Editors

The Hatchet corporation appointed Howard H. Martin, editor-in-chief of the University Hatchet for next year, in a meeting held at the Law School, Monday, June 11, at 5 o'clock. Two associate editors, Henry Ravenel and Margaret J. Prentiss, were also chosen.

The faculty committee on student activities and the Student Council have confirmed these appointments. The probability is that after this year the Hatchet corporation will be disbanded and the choice of publication editors will be in the hands of the Student Council subject to the approval of the faculty committee.

The corporation has consisted of three former editors and three members of the faculty.

Baccalaureate Sermon on "Supremacy of Christ"

"Jesus of Nazareth is our best authority in three realms--personality, relationships and activities. He is the living divinity in each of these three great worlds," said the Rev. William Frazer McDowell, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in his baccalaureate sermon on the "Supremacy of Christ" to the graduating classes of George Washington University last Sunday afternoon at the Foundry M. E. Church, Sixteenth and P streets.

The service began at 4 o'clock when the procession consisting of President Stockton, Bishop McDowell, John B. Larner, president of the board of trustees, the trustees and the faculty members in full regalia, ushered by the senior marshal Bertram Groesbeck, marched thru a double column of capped and gowned seniors, into the auditorium of the church. President Stockton presided over the service, which was as follows:

Processional, Hymn, "Lead on, O King Eternal. Responsive reading, Prayer, Rev. Walter Everett Burnett, pastor Foundry Church. Anthem by Foundry Church Quartet. Sermon by the Rev. William Frazer McDowell, D. D., LL. D., Resident Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Anthem by Foundry Church Quartet. Announcements, Charles Edward Monroe, LL. D., Dean of the School of Graduate Studies. Hymn, "Jesus Calls Us o'er the Tumult." Benediction, Bishop McDowell.

REGISTER JUNE 5

Most of the young men of the University registered for military service on June 5 along with 10,000,000 other young men. Only a small percentage of these students expect to be drafted, as most of them are already doing necessary and highly patriotic work.

With the orchestra playing the Grand March from Aida, the commencement procession, consisting of members of the faculty in collegiate dress followed by the graduates of all departments of the University, wearing caps and gown, and lead by the senior marshals, filed slowly into the auditorium of the Central High School, Wednesday evening, June 6, for the 96th annual commencement.

Rev. Douglas Putnam Birnie offered a prayer while the graduates stood with academic caps removed. "University Education and New World Conditions" was the subject of the chief address by the Hon. William Miller Collier, A. M., one-time ambassador to Spain and now lecturer on diplomacy at George Washington University.

After the presentation of degrees by the deans of the various colleges Dean Charles Edward Monroe, of the Graduate School, presented Master's degrees to the successful students in graduate work. Six honorary degrees were conferred by President Stockton, Doctor of Laws; Theodore Williams Noyes and William Miller Collier, Doctor of Science; George Perkins Merrill, Elmer Ernest Southard, Arthur Powell Davis, and Frederick Fuller Russell.

The marshals were Bertram Groesbeck, jr., David Hoagland Cannon, John Shiveley Bixler, and Tully C. Garner.

These students were graduated with distinction, which means that 60 per cent of the total number of hour marks that they have had thru their entire courses have been A or B and that the faculty has considered them worthy to receive this honor.

$5 Tax

As the Student Council and the Faculty Committee by their recent action has decided that an attempt should be made to substitute a $5 tax next year for the present tax, every student should support them. For the money there will be no better bargain in the city.

It is to be hoped that in spite of the disorganizing influence of the world war, the $5 plan will be successful. Plans for soliciting and a definite method of the handling and expending of the money must be worked out by the Student Council and the Faculty Committee jointly in order that in view of this year's experience such matters can be improved. In many cases, the manner of distributing the benefits of the tax should be given careful attention and thought.

Every student must back and aid the Council in the carrying out of its plans.

Your motto should be: Help the G. W. publications improve by subscribing to the $5 tax. The tax will include the Cherry Tree, the Hatchet and hospital benefit. Numbers of students received service worth from $3 to $54 during the past year. Those are actual figures taken from Dr. Borden's report to the Faculty Committee.

Publication Plan

There probably will be a change in the appearance and size of next year's Hatchet provided the plan of the management works out and the students give it their financial support.

Everyone realized that the paper was too small last year. Much material had to be cut or left out due to the limited space which the excessive advertising caused. A size proposed for next year is that of the Washington Times only seven columns wide instead of eight, and four pages. The paper, too, will probably be the ordinary news print paper.

Many have stated that it is foolish to increase the size of the paper since there probably will not be any athletics. It is the object of the Second Council to inaugurate specific functions which will keep up the student spirit that was created last year. There will undoubtedly be an increase in social functions and departmental activities.

By increasing the size of the paper, there can also be an increase in the amount of advertising without overbalancing the news columns. The management realizes that it has its hands full in getting the large amount of advertising necessary to finance the paper, but it will endeavor to work thru the summer in collecting it.

Another scheme suggested is a fiction supplement or magazine to be issued by the Hatchet as a separate enterprise or an added feature of the paper. Original stories, poems and drawings by George Washington students would be published.

Next year's management urgently requests the students to assist it as much as possible. Liberal percentage will be given student agents obtaining advertisements. Won't you help make the G. W. paper the best college publication?

The University officials should reconsider the advisability of establishing a course in military instruction and tactics here. This would prove a drawing card for high school students in the place of athletics.

The Hatchet editors for next year feel that they are very fortunate in having both the former editors, William S. Hance and Watson Davis back at G. W. U. next fall. With them to advise and assist the new editors with both contributions to the paper and suggestions for its improvement next year ought to be a banner year for the Hatchet.

Wm. J. Bull Lectures

BY "PERCY"

Citizens of Sleepy Hollow: Fourth of July is comin' and we're goin' to meet 'im. Here we are with our cannon, and firecrackers, ready to kick up a rusty or pitch slam-bang into any feller that's got a word to say against our forefathers, that fought, bled and died for liberty. (Why don't you cheer me?)

In the name of the matrons, I mean martyrs, of liberty who fell supportin the declaration of appendicitis—ah— independence, on the battlefields of Trafalgar; in the names of Franklin, Roosevelt, Willard, and Ty Cobb, who are preaching today for recruits we must buy a liberty bond. And liberty bond, people, doesn't mean a divorce in the name of the mighty eagle who now flaps his wings on the upper berth of creation, I tell you somethin has got to be did. (Cheer me agin).

You gotta look into the carburetor of this glorious On—ah—ah—Union is what I mean, and see if we can't use jes a little less gas. You got to get rid of them fellers who don't know nothin and yet go round makin election speeches about anythin at all. People I know my subject. I aint askin you for yer votes. Of course I must have em to win, but I aint askin yer for em. Jes don't forget, however, that my name is on the ticket and awaitin for a little cross by its side. We don't want men steerin the national Ford who aint got brains enough to know when the battery is gone. Such things aint to be stood; and if you don't want them mean, chickenhearted fellers to bring this country to perdition, let every man, boy and yelper, give a shout for Bull, liberty, America and more Bull, so loud that it will rouse the British lion from its lair, and send him howlin o'er the sandy plains of Popocatepete; while the Russian Bear will be so skeered that he'll wind his tail about a tree and vell until the Mexican bull 'll run kerflop into the Gulf of Mexico and bump a German subfrankfurter; the glorious eagle hearin the rumpus, and still flappin his wings over the top shingle of this here nation will guide the Americans right thru the vitals of the Germans and to victory. I am very glad you all got my theme to-night and as a reminder either enlist, buy a liberty bond, or vote for Bull. Let me recite one of my own poems which is meant to instill a little votin spirit into (you). Altho containin no alcohol the poem is alcoholic so to chirp. Here goes: Ah—ah—er—I left it home. (Scene closes with Bull receiving all the necessities of a pantry and ingredients of an omelet).

DR. BRIGHAM WRITES BOOK

Work on Famous Pictures Will Be Used as Art Text

Dr. Gertrude Richardson Brigham, instructor in art, has recently published a book entitled "The Study and Enjoyment of Pictures." This book, which is illustrated, is the result of the author's extended study, teaching, and European travel, and offers a popular guide to famous pictures. It treats of the rationals of art and literature, especially during the nineteenth century.

The publishers believe this is the first book to offer a popular compendium of pictures to be seen in America and at the same time, those of European cities, together with a brief history of art.

Dr. Brigham plans to make this her text-book for the summer school course in the History of Art, and also next year in the History and Appreciation of Painting.

PICTURE GIVEN DR. SWISHER

At the last meeting of the afternoon class in American constitutional history Dr. Swisher was presented with a large framed picture of the Castle of St. Angelo or Hadrian's Tomb. The picture shows the broad expanse of the Tiber, with Hadrian's Tomb far up on its bank and the dome of St. Peter's in the background. Oscar H. Lindow presented the picture on behalf of the class.

In presenting this picture the class followed the precedent set last year by the afternoon class in medieval history, which presented the picture of the ruins of the Roman Forum.

G. W. U. GETS PLACE IN SUN

Listed Among Large Universities Doing War Work

A sketch of what George Washington University is doing to aid the progress of the war appeared in the New York Sun of May 6, along with statements from all the other leading eastern universities and colleges.

Replies to telegrams of the Sun indicate that college men of the East are flocking to the colors and that they are doing even more than their bit.

Credit for those who leave for war service, suspension of all intercollegiate athletics, hurrying of commencements, formation of cadet corps, unqualified offer of men, faculty, time, and equipment to the government is the practically universal course of the colleges, the poll shows.

The University's statement was prepared by President Stockton with the aid of Adjutant W. D. Halsey, of the Intelligence Bureau, and the assistance of the Hatchet.

GIRLS LOSE BEAUTY SLEEP

Uncle Sam's New Clerks Arise Early and Study Late

"Late to bed and early to rise" is the slogan of the George Washington girls who have to be at work at 8 a. m. in Uncle Sam's departmental service. These girls, who are helping the government in the present crisis, have completed their year's work by taking their classes in the evening.

Some of the girls who have accepted positions are as follows:

Postoffice—Misses Martha McGrew, Bernardine Waldenmaier, Gertrude Walter, Olive Taylor, Marguerite Saunders, Marjorie Gleason; War Department: Misses Ada Howell, Elizabeth Speiser; Treasury Department: Miss Theodosia Seibold; Agriculture Department: Misses Lasalla McCaffrey, Carol Walker, Margaret Schoenfeld, Mary Grabill, Elizabeth Heitmuller, Irene Daniel, Alva Stites, Ruth Phillips and Norma Bose.

HOLD BASKETBALL BANQUET

The girls' basketball team gave their annual banquet for members of the team Thursday evening, May 31. An informal discussion of athletics for next year took place, and a self-supporting team consisting of alumnae and students was suggested. Those attending the banquet were: Misses Theodosia Seibold, Emma Reh, Gertrude Fogerty, Ella Gardener, Elsie Burch, Margaret Bristow, Charlotte Stimson, Gertrude Walter, Elizabeth Davis and Loyzelle Callihan.

The team loses four members by graduation, leaving six players as a nucleus for next year. The captain will not be elected until next fall.

Pyramid Holds Election
and Spring Initiation

William Hance, jr., William Stubbs James, Gilbert Lewis Hall, and Harry Stearns Taylor were initiated into the Pyramid Honor Society at the spring meeting of the society, Monday evening, May 21, at the Sigma Chi House. Following the initiation a buffet supper was served and the following officers elected: President, Herbert Percy Ramsey; vice president, William Lawrence Wanlass; secretary-treasurer, William S. Hance, jr.; historian, Gilbert Lewis Hall.

Hance, Engineering '18, has been editor of the Hatchet for the past two years, president of the Art Society and associate editor of the Cherry Tree, '16. He has been elected president of the Student Council next year. James, Engineering '17, was manager of the track team during the past year, and a letter man on the relay team. Hall, Law '18, and Taylor, Law '17, are both members of this year's undefeated debating team.

As many members of the Society have already entered various forms of military service, the meeting was of the nature of a pre-war reunion. Among the speakers were Lieut. Howard W. Hodgkins, of the Coast Artillery, Lieut. John R. Fehr, of the N. G. D. C. and L. C. McNemar, formerly professor of Political Science, and now connected with the State Department, and W. S. Hance for the initiates.

The Summer School bulletin is out and will be distributed upon request to Dean Ruediger, director of the Summer School. Instruction begins in all classes on June 25. Although a number of students who expected to take classes have gone into government offices, they may still register for afternoon work.

One feature of the summer school will be a Red Cross Course in Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick, given by Miss Mary Glascock, which will be Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 1:30 to 3:30, provided 15 students register for it.

U. and who will give a course in the Theory and Practice of Architectural Composition next year, is offering a series of twelve lectures on the castles, cathedrals, and civic buildings of France and Belgium, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 o'clock, which will be free to the public. By registering for the course one semester-hour of credit may be earned.

Courses in Analytic Geometry and beginning French have been requested. There is a possibility that the French may be given if enough people apply.

USUAL COURSES NEXT YEAR

War Not Expected to Affect Enrollment Seriously

There will be no essential change in the courses of study offered next year at G. W. U. and it is expected that work in the University will be carried on as usual. Only about one-third of the University will be affected by the loss of men. In the last three years, enrollment in Columbian College has increased forty per cent. While next year may show a decrease from this year, Dean Wilbur expects it to exceed that of three years ago.

Due to new civil service positions, created since the beginning of the war, which are being filled by men and women from all parts of the country, a large enrollment in the evening classes is expected. Men under twenty-one are being encouraged by the government to go on with their college work, with the prospect of becoming officers later. Medical students, especially, are urged to continue their studies, in order to supply the demand for doctors, both in civil and military life.

NEW STUDENT COUNCIL

The associates are to alternate issues and the material approved by the editor-in-chief before it is sent to press. This puts the responsibility of the Hatchet upon the shoulders of one man. This will avoid much confusion of former years when students and persons interested in the paper wish to insert material or see why certain material was not published could not find the person managing that issue.

The attention of the Council was called to the fact that Mr. Cannon, one of the senior marshals, would be unable to attend the services. The Council then voted that the man next highest on the list be given that honor. Tully Charles Garner was that man.

William S. James, the students' strong advocate for athletics, aroused much enthusiasm in his argument for the resumption of athletics at G. W. next year. The Council went on record in favor of the resumption of basketball and track, and turned the matter of final decision over to the Second Council.

Regarding the much-debated tax question, the Council advocated a $5 tax to include publications and either athletics or hospital treatment. This matter, too, was referred to the Second Council for final decision.

Before the meeting adjourned, commendatory speeches were made for Dean E. Fraser and Howard W. Hodgkins for their work in supporting student interests during the past year.

Elmer Kayser presided at this meeting due to the absence of President Rhesa Norris.
